CLINICS FOR SALE

2

Clinic for sale

Abingdon, near Oxford. Owner looking to retire. The practice has been running for 34 years and has seen thousands of patients. A good number of associates have had their first few years of experience here. I work 3.5 days per week, and my associate works two days per week. She does not wish to take over the clinic, as she has family commitments, but she does wish to continue to work as an employee of the business.

You would be buying the 'goodwill' of the business, which includes an email list, and a computerised patient database. The existing clinical equipment would be included in the purchase price. The premises are modest in size (1 treatment room and 1 waiting room), and it is anticipated that the purchaser will rent the existing premises.

I have a lovely team of part-time receptionists who job-share.

The current approach is diversified, with maintenance. It's all pretty low-key and low stress, with 30 min appointments. We see approx 250 new patients per year, and get approx 170 consultations by returning patients. We normally have over 2000 treatments visits. Our fees are currently £49.50 per visit

You'll get a feel for the clinic by looking at some of the videos on the blog of the website

Please don't call the clinic about this advert. Best to send me an email (atrdc@hotmail.com) My associate knows that I am looking to find a successor, but my receptionists and my patients do not. I would like to keep it like that until the right person comes along. I know that you understand!
